Play

The evolution of the workplace was a key factor in the development of Play, a freestanding media unit designed for meetings, conference sharing and presentations. The front of the unit includes a bracket for a monitor, as well as multiple power points: five metre mains lead, HDMI link socket, dual USB and UK socket to fascia, and three UK sockets for monitor connection. The back of the media panel can be specified to include an optional dry-wipe board which promotes spontaneous and collaborative working. Play is made from birch veneer plywood and mounted on casters as standard, making it incredibly simple to move around a workplace. The combination of its mobility and its multiple uses make it ideal for environments which have an emphasis upon collaboration and flexibility.
